Motor cars in London are increasing so fast that a third of the handsome cabs have been put out of business. Yet in spite of cases of this kind horses are in demand and cost as much as ever.

Speculators are buying up tea in Canada in order to control the market in case the article is taxed in the new American tariff. There are many reasons why a new tariff law should be handled with as little delay as possible.

In his diary written during the civil war, Secretary of the Navy Welles said Farragut "does but one thing at a time, but does that strongly and well," and "will more willingly take greater risks to obtain great results than any other officer, high in either navy or army." Exceptional praise, but justified by history.

Champ Clark will be surprised again when he counts all the democrats in the house who favor protection for particular articles.

New York ministers say that the stage is bad for New York morals and the theatrical people say that New York morals are bad for the stage. Which doesn't change the firm conviction that there is something morally wrong in New York.

And it is true that dead Indians are the ones who behave.

As tariff revision is business retardation the job should be performed well and not too often.

It is proposed to double Crazy Snake's rations and fatten him up to a point where it will be impossible for him to revolutionize.

One thing may be said for the London suffragettes: After a year's struggle they have not yet shown the first symptoms of cold feet.

Three months of the new year have slipped away and the Illinois legislature is still confronted by the problem of electing a United States senator.

An engineer estimates that New York City in 1950 will have a population of 19,250,000. No wonder each railroad system is spending vast sums for terminals.

The peaceful settlement of the Balkan crisis appears to have put Russian stocks on a boom and the Serbian crown prince on the bum.

The lady lobbyists at Madison, Wis., lured the bachelor senators out of the legislative chamber while a vote was being taken on the woman suffrage bill. When it comes to blandishments, what can bald-headed bachelor clay do in the plastic hands of a fair potter?

Of course it may be that the proponents of the Payne tariff bill figure that by putting stockings up they might dispense with garters altogether.

Hon. Crazy Snake of Oklahoma, may be as wise as a serpent, but it

SOME OF MARVELOUS CREATIONS OF BURBANK TO BE EXHIBITED

Santa Rosa, Cal., April 12.—Luther Burbank's many marvelous creations are to be exhibited for the first time in a great exhibition hall here. Hundreds of wonderful fruits, flowers and grains perfected by the wizard of the plant world will be shown. Here are some of the most surprising ones:

The primus berry, a union of the raspberry and the blackberry, the first recorded instance of a new species; the phenomenal berry, a combination of the California dewberry and the Cuthbert raspberry; a walnut bred with no tannin in its meat; gladioli of greatly enhanced beauty taught to bloom around their entire stem like a hyacinth instead of the old way, on one side; a dahila with its disagreeable odor driven out and in its place the odor of a marigold; a lily with the fragrance of a violet, and a scentless verberna given the intensified fragrance of the trailing arbutus; fruit trees which will withstand freezing in bud and flowers; an amaryllis bred from three or four inches to nearly a foot in diameter; a gum berry almost like a fat, luscious blueberry, which can be grown in all climates; blackberries without thorns; an everlasting flower which may be used for decoration of women's hats; improved varieties of thousands of grasses and improved flowering tobacco.

Burbank has changed the chestnut in marked degree. Originally it bore nuts in ten to twenty-five years. He has made it bear nuts in six months after planting the seed.

In the creation of big trees, Burbank has achieved wonders. Here is an instance: A common California black walnut and an English walnut were crossed by fertilization and seedlings raised from these. The best of the progeny were selected and bred forward, always selecting those which approached nearest to Burbank's ideal, until at last he had a set of hybrid, rapid growing seedlings. Half a dozen trees were set out in the hard earth at the curb in front of the Burbank place, were given no cultivation and no irrigation. In seventeen years these trees stood more than eighty feet in height, their branches spread 75 feet, their trunks six feet thick at the height of a man's head, the wood of fine grain, taking a splendid polish and with a big commercial value for furniture.
